The Pollinator

CONNECTING PEOPLE.
GROWING SUSTAINABILITY.

The pollinator is the connector of ecosystems. EnviroCollective strives to be the connector of communities. Just as pollinators transfer the pollen that allows nature to flourish, ECN shares knowledge, resources, and relationships that help environmental ideas grow into community action.

September 2026

Behind the scenes at Pepsi Park

Eastview Gets Fixed: September By The Numbers

On September 5, Eastview brought us their wobbly, frayed and mysteriously dead. 56 items came in. 31 were fixed, 11 were partly fixed, and only 7 were beyond saving. That's an 85.7% success rate, our best this season!

21 volunteers put in 107 hours, more than four days of repair work crammed into one Saturday. We saw 52 appointments and 12 walk-ins, plus $92.50 in donations for the Youth Empowerment Fund.

That's dozens of things rescued from the landfill. Bring your broken stuff next time. We'll bring the tools!

University of Regina Volunteer Fair

On September 23, EnviroCollective joined the University of Regina's Volunteer Fair, and it was a busy one! New and returning students came looking for ways to get involved. For many, volunteering is a chance to learn more about the community around them. For students who are new to Regina or far from home, it's a great way to meet local residents and build connections. Thanks to everyone who stopped by!

Coffee and Connection

On September 22, EnviroCollective joined colleagues from across Regina's nonprofit and voluntary sector for Coffee and Connection at the Safe Café in the Conexus Building. The come-and-go morning was a relaxed chance to catch up with familiar faces, meet new people and strengthen relationships across the sector. Events like this remind us that the work of building a greener, more caring community happens together, and we're grateful for the chance to connect.

Seniors' Climate Caravan Stops in Regina

On September 12, EnviroCollective joined the Regina send-off for the Western Canada Seniors' Climate Caravan. Seniors, people of faith and allies travelled to Ottawa in electric vehicles for Seniors' Climate Witness, September 19 to 24, calling for stronger climate commitments and an end to new publicly funded fossil fuel pipelines. Travellers, hosts and supporters shared breakfast at Prairie Spruce before the send-off, where ECN Chair Rob Deglau announced a $1,000 gift to the caravan from one of our supporters. Local volunteers provided billets and overnight EV charging. It was inspiring to see seniors proving climate action has no age limit.

A Repair Cafe is a Pop-Up community event where people can bring broken or damaged items to be fixed for free by volunteers. The goal is to promote repairing and reusing items instead of throwing them away, which helps reduce waste and encourages sustainability. The EnviroCollective Network is committed host numerous events throughout the years

Building Skills and Confidence

Many people feel overwhelmed by the concept of climate advocacy. Repair Cafés provide a low-pressure environment where participants can learn new skills, like fixing appliances or upcycling furniture. As they gain confidence in their abilities, they may be more likely to take on other sustainability projects or join advocacy groups.
